

January 5, 2012

Your local state farmers co-op, Southern States Co-op, farm supply outlet, or other seed vendors may be also able to provide you with native grass seed or to locate other sources. Buyers are urged caution to compare seed quality (germination, purity rates, percent inert material) when shopping among vendors. Inclusion on this list and order does not entail endorsement, nor is any discrimination intended by omission from this list of known growers and suppliers. For further information of seed release, please visit <http://www.nativeseednetwork.org/releases>.
